Soviet Forces Drive Ahead Toward Riga

All-Out Offensive Against Nazi Armies In Baltic
States Makes Progress

LATVIAN CAPITAL,
ONLY 8 MILES AWAY

By NATALIA RENE
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Sept. 20.—Powerful forces of the Soviet First and Third Baltic armies smashed ahead today on the fifth day of an all-out offensive designed to crush Nazi armies in the Baltic states after seizing positions 8.6 miles from the Latvian capital of Riga and taking the strategic Estonian railroad town of Valga, 80 miles to the northeast.

Southeast of Riga the First Baltic army blasted through heavily fortified German defense positions, crossing the Liepule and Menele rivers to cut the Kraslava-Jelgava railroad and seize the town of Kraslava.

Eight Miles from Riga
An official communique from the Soviet high command placed Kraslava "14 kilometers," 8.6 miles, from Riga.

This offensive was revealed to have liberated over 2,000 towns and villages and destroyed many German troops and much material rolling forward to the depth of 25 miles into German positions on a 75-mile front.

Northeast of Riga Russian Third Baltic army fighters swarmed into the key railroad junction of Valga after slashing across the Vaieka, Ena and Jogi rivers along a wide front.

Red army units attacking from the east occupied Valga, described in an order of the day from Marshal Stalin as the key railroad.

PA NEWC Observes

PA Newc notes that the paint-epidemic is spreading on the public square. Another building is being given a trimming up with fresh paint. Four or five structures have recently been freshened up around the square.

Work is being rushed on restructuring of East Washington street as far as the bridge over the Ne-shannock from Butler avenue. Some arrangement should be made for resurfacing the remainder of Washington street in the main downtown section.

Some holiday mail is being handled at the post office but the rush has not as yet got really under way in the Christmas mailing of packages to service men and women. Those who intend to mail holiday packages overseas should attend to the matter at once, or the last week of the overseas mailing period will be worse than any normal Christmas rush.

Gov. Edward Martin urged Pennsylvania citizens today to participate actively in religious education week starting September 24. "The depths to which the human soul can sink when it has lost its moorings in the teachings of the church have been amply demonstrated in this cruel and brutal war, forced upon humanity by men who have defied the spiritual guidance of religion," he declared.

Now, fellow Western Pennsylvanians, is the time to start eating apples, but in quantities. That's the latest word from the War Food

School Survey Is Authorized

Board Votes For Survey Of City School System By Educational Expert

FIRST STEP IN POSTWAR PLAN

By an unanimous vote of the eight school directors present, the New Castle School Board at a special meeting Tuesday night in the administration building authorized a survey of the public school system here, to be conducted by Dr. John Guy Fowles, director of the summer session of the University of Wisconsin. The survey will start sometime in October and will cost $5,000. The proposal was presented by Director Clyde M. Whitaker.

The action Tuesday night reversed the position of the board at the August meeting. At that time the proposal to survey the school system was rejected. The proposal was revived in the September meeting when the rejection action was considered and laid upon the table for a special meeting. This special meeting was held Tuesday night.

Over-All Survey
The survey is to be an over-all one and is the first definite step of the school board towards post-war planning. It will include a survey of the physical properties.

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—The American Legion's shortened national convention neared its close today after adopting its most sweeping program for the rehabilitation of world-war veterans, for the elimination of subversive elements and for an iron-hand control on Japanese-Americans.

War on Soft Peace
Still to be voted on today was a strongly-worded resolution calling for formation of a world security organization backed by the force of the United Nations.

Seek To Prevent Escape Of German
Garrison On Island Of Crete

ROME, Sept. 20.—(INS)—The island of Crete in the Mediterranean now is being closely blockaded to prevent escape of the German garrison there, allied headquarters announced today.

Naval aircraft from an escort carrier force destroyed 11 motor vehicles and damaged others in a raid against the island Sept. 17, while on the following day destroyers bombarded the enemy wireless station at Melos and naval aircraft disposed of 25 more vehicles.

Mercer Trial Is Near Conclusion

Defense Testimony For
Janice Graham Is Ended
Tuesday Afternoon

JURY MAY GET
CASE LATE TODAY

MERCER, Pa., Sept. 20.—(INS)—The five woman-seven man jury today was expected to receive the state's lurid case against calm Janice Graham, 21-year-old domestic accused of first degree murder in the three violent deaths on the Everitt Wilson dairy farm last October.

The defense, in a surprise move, yesterday rested its side of the case after producing a host of witnesses calculated to shoot holes in the story of William A. Morell, who thrice pinned the blame for the triple tragedy on his former sweetheart.

Court was immediately recessed to give the state an opportunity to prepare its rebuttal testimony and to give attorneys on both sides a chance to prepare their closing speeches to the jury.

Morell, the commonwealth's star witness, again and again insisted that when he arrived at the Wilson farmhouse "shortly after 11 a. m." last October 7th, he found Mrs. Helen Wilson dead or dying on the kitchen floor; and Mrs. Katherine Wilson, the dairyman's mother, and Robert McKay, a hired hand, dead of shotgun blasts in the living room and on the staircase.

GEN. DOUGLAS MACARTHUR'S HQ., New Guinea, Sept. 20.—Jap installations on southern Mindanao island in the Philippines were left in flames when American Mitchell bombers blasted enemy military positions in a new softening up assault, headquarters of Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today.

The mission over the Philippines was carried out simultaneously with a devastating heavy bomber assault on Jap air bases in the northern Celebes during which 145 tons of explosives were showered on enemy targets.

In the Philippines assault the Buayan airbase was attacked from low level and piers along the waterfront were blasted.

Peleliu Island Attacks Nearing Climax Of Battle

Complete Conquest Near—
Discover Scores Of Jap
Planes Ruined By Pre-
Invasion Bombs

By RICHARD V. HALLER
PEARL HARBOR, Sept. 20.—

Complete conquest of Peleliu island in the Palau group appeared imminent today after veteran United States Marines scored additional advances against bitterly resisting Japanese units and brought most of the eastern coast under American control.

John Cooper, pool radio reporter, was quoted by the blue network as saying Peleliu is "almost entirely in American hands," and that only a small strip along the northern end remains in enemy control.

A Pacific fleet headquarters communique disclosed the new marine advances and revealed that Ngardolop town has been captured.

Scores of Aircraft Hit
The hard-charging Marines have found more evidence of the results of terrific pre-invasion bombardments of the island. Headquarters said 77 single engine fighter aircraft, 28 medium bombers, eight light bombers and four transports were discovered in badly damaged condition on the seized Peleliu airfield.

Damage to these planes had not been previously announced by headquarters.

On Angaur island, six miles south of Peleliu, the army's 81st division was pressing forward in the final phases of the battle for the rich phosphate-producing island bringing more than two-thirds of it under control. Headquarters said that only two isolated pockets of enemy resistance remain to be wiped out.

The Peleliu Japs continued to resist the marines from pillboxes, trenches and other prepared fortifications, and though morning up operations may delay complete conquest of the island, it was believed that organized resistance soon will be at an end.

Montgomery Sees Victory Over Nazis Before Year's End

LONDON, Sept. 20.—(INS)—Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, addressing a Scottish division in Belgium, repeated his declaration that the war against Germany would be over this year. Reuter's reported today.

The British commander told the troops:

"We are getting ready to finish off the war. Before we started this business I gave it as my opinion that if we did our stuff we could have the war against the Germans over this year."

"It is now the middle of September and I will go so far as to say that my statement is absolutely right."

Montgomery stressed the fact that the defeat of the German armies is more important than speedy occupation of Berlin by saying:

"If you defeat the German armies everything else is yours for the asking."

Adolf's Mistakes
Adolf Hitler made "two crucial mistakes" in Normandy, Montgomery said, according to a London broadcast heard by CBS.

"The Germans' first big mistake was on D-day," the field marshal was quoted as saying. "Instead of making a very quick counter-attack, they waited, and then gathered reinforcements from all over Europe and flung them piecemeal into the

Perfect 'Teamwork' Revealed In Allied Air-Borne Invasion

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
(Written Especially For International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Allied air-borne troops are on both sides of the Rhine river in Holland.

Invasion of a country by an air-borne army is the latest demonstration of the perfect teamwork which has existed at all times during the Allied invasion of western Europe. In fact, the entire invasion may be considered in the light of a great athletic game in which, only with absolute teamwork can success be gained.

The Allied combat air forces in Britain and Italy may be considered as the first element of the team to function. For months prior to the invasion, under perfect strategic planning, they pounded the enemy targets at the most needed time. Then they became part of the barrage which cleared the way for the Allied landing on the first sweep beaches of Normandy.

Second Element
The second element of the great combat athletic team was of the sea—the navy, the transports, the landing barges. The mass of vessels used for transportation were carefully escorted to the beaches by a perfectly co-ordinated huge naval

American Troops Breach Vaunted Nazi Gothic Line

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

ROME, Sept. 20.—American troops of the Allied Fifth Army in Italy breached the vaunted German-held Gothic line on a six-mile front north of Florence to advance today to within three miles of the important road center of Firenze.

The wide breach in the line was made after a week of the most intensive fighting in the Italian campaign.

American, British, Indian and Brazilian troops flanking the penetration in the line made by Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark's forces were reported by headquarters to be making progress against strong opposition.

Threatens Nazi Setup

Fifth Army units which blasted their way forward yard by yard in bitter fighting captured a vital hill feature during the last 48 hours of action.

The newly won position threatens the entire German defensive setup in the area.

British, South African, Indian and Brazilian fighters again scaled rocky slopes and drove well dug-in Nazis from prepared positions to achieve the success.

Nazi concrete pillboxes, gun emplacements, and dug-in tank units on Appennine crests are still being reduced by Allied combat teams. Despite the breach in the Gothic line it is apparent that no large-scale breakthrough has been achieved as yet.

German commanders rushed a veteran Nazi training regiment to the sector menaced by the Fifth Army advance to slow the Allied drive.

In the heavy fighting north of Florence Allied troops have seized more than 600 prisoners in the last 48 hours.

TO DRIVE AHEAD

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, Sept. 20.—German troops fled in hasty retreat across the River Rhine to defend the highways to Berlin today and Nazi broadcasts admitted that Allied onslaughts in eastern Holland and against the Siegfried line now comprise a "decisive operation" that will determine the fate of Germany.

With "great developments" officially promised within the next twelve hours, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters revealed the Germans were swarming across the Rhine in barges along a 50-mile road of retreat from Emmerich on the Dutch-German border to the Ruhr valley.

Three Allied divisions now have landed by air along the Rhine estuary, a Berlin broadcast said, while an official German military commentator added:

"This is a decisive operation."

While headquarters details remained scanty, Paris reported a junction between troops of the British Second Army and Allied air-borne units north of Nijmegen, which itself has been penetrated by British armor.

Considerable fighting raged inside Nijmegen, 14 miles northwest of Cleve, northernmost anchor of the German Siegfried line which the new Allied thrusts threaten to turn.

The German high command meanwhile officially admitted the loss of Nijmegen to the American Third Army front.

The German agency DNB admitted that German troops were also

Huge Fires In German Cities After Bombing

LONDON, Sept. 20.—(INS)—Huge fires blazed today in the twin German cities of Rheinfelt and Munchen Gladbach, 35 miles northeast of advanced positions won by the American first army, after concentrated night attacks by British Lancaster bombers.

The German home radio said this morning, according to the FCC, that "single fast nuisance raiders" were over Bavaria in daylight.

The Nazi agency DNB reported that Budapest, capital of Hungary, was blasted during the night by "Anglo-American" bombers.

Important Rail Points
Both Rheinfelt and Munchen Gladbach, only two miles apart, are important rail points.

The targets through which the Nazis were pouring supplies to the fighting front were defended by strong anti-aircraft fire and night fighter planes.

Clear weather over the Ruhr enabled the British fliers to smash explosives directly on the targets.

Two rail lines, one from Aachen and another from Cologne, meet at Rheinfelt before running into Munchen Gladbach, where they connect with the main route from the Ruhr to Venlo and Holland.

Rheinfelt also has railway marshaling yards capable of handling 2,500 railway cars daily.

Congress Plans For Long Recess

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—(INS)—Congressional leaders made plans today to begin a seven-week election recess tomorrow or Friday, reasonably confident that President Roosevelt will not veto either the reconversion or surplus property disposal bills.

Indications were, however, that a joint resolution sending both houses home until mid-November, would not be set up until the last minute.

While officially the leadership in house and senate was understood to be awaiting a formal sign from the White House on the veto question, the unofficial word at the Capitol was that Mr. Roosevelt will approve the legislation with a statement setting forth his criticism.

Speculation was strong that the president would make his evaluation of the "compromise" bills a stinging rebuke of congress.

Yule Mailing To Servicemen Lags

Families Of Soldiers And Sailors Here Must Step Up Mailing Or Be Left

Unless the residents of the New Castle community become conscious of the fact that only three more weeks remain in which to mail their packages to their loved ones in the service overseas, a great many of them will be left out in the cold at Christmas time. Postmaster William R. Hanna announced today.

With only a day more than three weeks remaining in which to mail these packages, only a few have been sent out so far, the Postmaster stated. This means that a volume which is expected to be three times as great as last year, will be crammed into a much shorter period taxing human ingenuity beyond its capacity.

Only one package may be sent by any one individual to the same serviceman in a week during the mailing period. The package should be marked "Christmas parcel."

The box should be firmly tied with strong twine, or bound and reinforced with gummed paper tape, or both. The address should be printed plainly in waterproof ink, and a duplicate address and return address be placed inside the box.

The destination address should include the full name, serial number, service organization and unit of the service man or woman. It should also include the proper Army or Fleet Post Office and the proper form from which it will leave. The return address should be complete.

Packages cannot weigh over five pounds, be more than 15 inches long, or more than 15 inches in length and girth combined.

Articles taboo for mailing include perishable foods, intoxicants, weapons, poisons, and inflammables, such as matches and lighter fluids.

junction in the northeastern Baltic states. After seizing Valga, Russian fighters plunged forward on the heels of retreating Nazis to force a crossing of the river Gauja and occupy several towns on the far bank.

Plavinas Falls

East of Riga the rail junction of Plavinas fell to Soviet troops.

Capture of Plavinas brought nine military store dumps and 120 railroad cars into Russian hands.

Closest approach to the Latvian capital was made in the First Baltic army offensive from southeast of the city. Following intensive aerial and artillery preparation, Soviet units burst through a strong German defense belt along the Lielupe and Memele rivers to capture the town of Balvsa.

On the heels of this blow, Russian forces swarmed across the Memele river and reached the far bank of the Lielupe, plunging through a deep sector of staggered German defensive positions and severed the Kurshis-Jelgava railroad in many places.

Three Jap planes were destroyed and a fourth probably was knocked out. Only one American fighter plane was lost to Jap anti-aircraft fire.

Continued neutralization raids slashed at Jap air bases in the lower Moluccas, with heavy and light bombers smashing at German and Ambona in successive days. Fighter patrols accompanying the bombers strafed Jap ground positions, destroying a coastal vessel.

Despite the continued neutralization raids, two Jap aircraft attempted to attack American shipping off the invaded island of Morotai. One of the Jap raiders was shot down by Yank anti-aircraft fire.

Other U. S. bombers lashed at enemy motor transport in sweeps over northern Timor, and in the Banda sea medium patrol bombers hit Saumlaki and attacked a coastal vessel off the Kei Islands. Fighters sweeping the area damaged a lugger and several smaller craft.

the election of a new national commander to succeed Warren H. Atherton were the day's chief items of business.

Edward N. Scheiberling of Albany, N. Y., and John Stelle, former Illinois governor, were regarded as the chief contenders for the post of commander among a field of nine, with the New Yorker's supporters claiming sufficient votes to win on the first ballot.

Recommendations

Principal speakers on the day's program were James V. Forrestal, secretary of the Navy, and Mrs. Frank Knox, widow of Forrestal's predecessor.

The convention adopted in toto the report of its Americanism committee which recommended:

1. Abolition of the war relocation authority, with the transfer of control of Japanese-Americans to the Army. A halt to the relocation of Japanese interned in Tule Lake, Calif., who were 18 years old or older when committed, was recommended.

2. Return of all aliens convicted of subversive activities to their native lands, with deportation of all American citizens similarly convicted to the countries of their origin.

3. Return of all prisoners of war to their home lands immediately upon cessation of hostilities, together with the return of all labor battalions, refugees and others seeking temporary sanctuary to their home countries as soon as the war is ended.

4. Halt of all immigration after the end of the war until the total unemployed declines to 1,000,000 and the returning veterans have had the opportunity to obtain jobs. The sole exemption recommended was wives and children of servicemen married abroad.

Thunderstorms usually travel at a speed of approximately 25 miles an hour.

Mend selvages, revets and breaks in towels immediately to make them last as long as possible.

DEVELOPMENTS OF GREAT IMPORTANCE REPORTED AS NEAR

withdrawing across the western Scheldt river in the face of fierce Canadian attacks in the direction of Terneuzen.

DNB asserted that at least three Allied divisions now have been landed by air along the Rhine estuary.

The Germans ferried their troops back across the Rhine in barges all the way from south of Emmerich to the Ruhr. The action was interpreted at headquarters as a German realization that they cannot long prevent the Rhine from being outflanked and therefore are withdrawing the best troops to the east to defend the road to Berlin.

Brest Is Taken

The German retreat across the Rhine was revealed simultaneously with announcement that the last of enemy resistance in the port of Brest, at the tip of the Breton peninsula, had ceased.

Headquarters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower declared that the campaign in Holland and the developing rapidly following the liberation of the city. Eindhoven and a drive close to the Rhine near the city of Nijmegen.

Spearheads of the British Second Army smashed forward 37 miles from Eindhoven to the vicinity of Nijmegen and the German border, after a new junction with forces of the first junction army.

The new junction between the British and airborne troops was made at Veghel while advanced forces streaked northward to cross the Maas river at Grave, eight miles from Nijmegen, by using a bridge seized intact by units of the airborne army.

The advances in Holland, a headquarters spokesman said, were pressed against very heavy German resistance.

Forward elements reached the outskirts of Nijmegen, with the troops battling the Nazis every yard of the way.

Allied flanks at the base of the penetration into German-held territory east and west of Eindhoven have been widened and the town of Duizel was liberated.

Operations Successful

Airborne units reported to headquarters that their operations were carried out very successfully and that everything is going according to schedule as planned. Important bridges over waterways in the Netherlands have been secured.

Armored elements made the dash to Nijmegen where, the spokesman said, considerable fighting was in progress in the city.

Strong German counter-attacks were broken off near Brest and against the British bridgehead across the Escaut canal north of Ghent. Progress there was termed "relatively slow."

Stubborn resistance also was encountered south of the Scheldt. Advances were made between the Scheldt and the sea in the face of strong opposition.

Gains were scored in the area of the Axel-Hulst canal. Headquarters said airborne reinforcements continued to land yesterday but landings were on a smaller scale than the preceding two days since weather conditions were bad.

Southeast of the front from Eindhoven to Nijmegen, units of the American First Army under Lieut. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges, carried out a new crossing of the German frontier, marching from the Maas-tricht area of Holland into the Reich. The drive liberated Sittard, a mile from the German border, and Amstenrade. Only moderate German opposition was encountered.

Inside Germany, southeast of Aachen, First Army troops made progress in battling in the factory area of Stolberg. Stiff German pressure was being met near Busbach. German counter-attacks in areas around Hofen and Alzen were unsuccessful.

had committed the crimes following an argument with Mrs. Helen Wilson over attentions paid to Everitt.

But the defense has denied all these allegations.

From the quiet of a hospital room in Youngstown, O., the defense produced a deposition by Howard C. Stamp, bakery truck driver, to the effect that he had seen and talked to both Mrs. Helen Wilson and Morell between 11:20 and 11:30 on the morning of the triple tragedy.

Stamp admitted, however, that he carried no watch and that he judged the time from stops he made along his daily bakery route.

Additionally, the defense put on the stand Deputy Sheriff Fred Cubbison, who testified that the pretty, unemotional girl was unable to eat the first three meals served her in Mercer County jail because her mouth was "red and swollen" when she arrived there.

In her own defense, Janice said that Morell bound and gagged her in the barn before the triple slayings occurred, and that he forced her to accompany him when he fled in McKay's car.

To corroborate this testimony, the defense produced additional witnesses who said that they saw bruises on the girl's arms after her arrest with Morell on an Ohio farm, where the pair had posed as man and wife.

Dispute Driver's Story

Testimony disputing the story of a bakery driver who said he visited the Everitt Wilson dairy farm between 11:20 and 11:30 the morning of the triple slaying, was given today as the prosecution presented its first rebuttal witness.

George Schoemaker, manager of the Nickel Baking company at Girard, O., said that his records did not show the name of Everitt Wilson on the customers' roll and that he had no record of purchases made by anyone on the Wilson farm.

Furthermore, he testified, mileage records taken from the truck driven by Howard C. Stamp, the driver who said he personally saw and spoke with Mrs. Helen Wilson, one of the three slain, and William A. Morell, indicated that Stamp did not drive out of his way to go to the Wilson farm on October 7th.

Schoemaker explained that Stamp would have had to drive at least 10 miles out of his normal route to make the trip to which he testified.

The survey proposal was disposed of in a short time. Each of the eight directors present spoke his views upon the matter and all of them were in agreement that good would come out of an intelligent survey. Those present were directors Leslie Brindle, Charles A. Brookover, Dr. W. L. Cleland, Robert L. Preston, Howard L. Reynolds, L. C. Shira, Clyde M. Whitaker, and President Griff Thomas.

MERCER TRIAL IS NEAR CONCLUSION

had committed the crimes following an argument with Mrs. Helen Wilson over attentions paid to Everitt.

But the defense has denied all these allegations.

From the quiet of a hospital room in Youngstown, O., the defense produced a deposition by Howard C. Stamp, bakery truck driver, to the effect that he had seen and talked to both Mrs. Helen Wilson and Morell between 11:20 and 11:30 on the morning of the triple tragedy.

Stamp admitted, however, that he carried no watch and that he judged the time from stops he made along his daily bakery route.

Additionally, the defense put on the stand Deputy Sheriff Fred Cubbison, who testified that the pretty, unemotional girl was unable to eat the first three meals served her in Mercer County jail because her mouth was "red and swollen" when she arrived there.

In her own defense, Janice said that Morell bound and gagged her in the barn before the triple slayings occurred, and that he forced her to accompany him when he fled in McKay's car.

To corroborate this testimony, the defense produced additional witnesses who said that they saw bruises on the girl's arms after her arrest with Morell on an Ohio farm, where the pair had posed as man and wife.

Dispute Driver's Story

Testimony disputing the story of a bakery driver who said he visited the Everitt Wilson dairy farm between 11:20 and 11:30 the morning of the triple slaying, was given today as the prosecution presented its first rebuttal witness.

George Schoemaker, manager of the Nickel Baking company at Girard, O., said that his records did not show the name of Everitt Wilson on the customers' roll and that he had no record of purchases made by anyone on the Wilson farm.

Furthermore, he testified, mileage records taken from the truck driven by Howard C. Stamp, the driver who said he personally saw and spoke with Mrs. Helen Wilson, one of the three slain, and William A. Morell, indicated that Stamp did not drive out of his way to go to the Wilson farm on October 7th.

Schoemaker explained that Stamp would have had to drive at least 10 miles out of his normal route to make the trip to which he testified.

PERFECT 'TEAMWORK' REVEALED IN ALLIED AIR-BORNE INVASION

armada. And when that armada reached the coastal waters, its tremendous guns went into action against enemy defense installations.

The next element of the great Allied team to spring into the combat was the infantry. It did the dirty work. With terrific losses the foot soldiers first dug their toes into the beach, then secured all of the beaches, and then seized an area for a base. But all the time overhead was the constant flow of assisting combat planes, both bombers and fighters.

The infantry still had further work to do. In deadly combat they had to push Allied lines forward to the correct geographical location, not only to flank the enemy but to create a gap through which the armored units could crash against our enemies.

Armored Columns Aid

Then suddenly to the consternation and dismay of the Nazis, the fourth element of the Allied combat team burst into action. General George Patton with his armored and motorized columns broke loose into the Brittany peninsula. That element was hard-driving and hard-hitting. It paid no attention whatsoever to the capturing or securing of territory. Its only function was to destroy and demoralize the enemy.

The then rate of advance commenced to slow and suddenly the fifth element of the Allied combat team burst into the view of our horrified enemies. And worse, that fifth element—General Breton's air-borne army struck for the weakest portion of the Siegfried line—the section, fortified or not, which is north of the Rhine river. It is obvious to all that, regardless of the strength of the German defense, water will be used as an aid to that defense. In other words, northern Holland will be flooded by the Germans if it has not already been inundated.

The air-borne army is the easy method of crossing those flooded areas to the weak portion of the German line and to the smoothest, easiest and most direct route to Berlin proper from the west.

Assessors Make Protest On Tax Plan For County

Meet At Court House—New Program Proposed Is Delayed For Year At Least

Protesting against the proposed form of assessment of properties for county purposes, some 40 county assessors of the city and county met in the court house and aired their grievances before the county commissioners and the chief county assessor on Tuesday night. The meeting was a long one and at times rather heated. At the end of it what seemed to have been accomplished was that for the current year the assessors will assess in much the same way they have been doing over the years.

The protest meeting was called by Homer Knisely of Little Beaver township who organized it. He acted as the chairman of the evening. He told the commissioners, as did other assessors that the plan was unworkable and if properties had to be assessed under the plan as set down, the assessors would not be able to get their books back to the court house in time for the collection of the year's taxes.

Represented By Counsel
The assessors were represented by Senator George T. Weingartner as counsel. He asked the commissioners what the assessors were expected to do, citing the fact that the proposed plan calls for a minute description of the house, to properties and boundaries even where lots are included in plot formation.

Chief Assessor John D. Pattison said that for the present the plan of classification of homes, using the number of rooms and then allowing so much depreciation would be abandoned for the present year. He said that the rate of depreciation was under advisement now and a new plan was expected to be worked out, following the advice of a committee of men familiar with realty values.

In 1943 the General Assembly passed an assessment law which adds much to the work of the assessor. Under this act a chief assessor is authorized and Mr. Pattison was appointed here. He has endeavored to work out a plan of assessment which would result in an equitable assessment base over the entire county.

Under the law the assessors' books should be back in and the tax payer notified of his assessment by September 1. This has not been done and cannot be done for some time as the assessors are just now getting into the work of assessing the properties in their districts.

DEWEY HITS 'INDISPENSABLE MAN' THEORY

to discussion of a "whole new approach to the relationship between the government of the United States and its people."

"I shall present the philosophy by which I believe we can achieve our two great goals for America," he said. "Freedom and security for all."

Tremendous Ovation
The Republican nominee and Mrs. Dewey were given a tremendous ovation by the 7,000 persons who jammed the Joe Coliseum here last night. Members of the audience had been concerned for hours following word that the Dewey train had rammed into another train near Castle Rock, Wash., with 15 persons injured in the wreck.

Without referring to the mishap, Gov. Dewey, in biting phrases, said President Roosevelt "claims that the United States and the world cannot get along without him."

"He has chosen this as the issue of the campaign," he said. "I accept the issue, and I challenge it."

Lashing at the claim of Mr. Roosevelt's "indispensability" to peace and prosperity, Gov. Dewey said that while the first requirements are unity in government and among the people, the New Deal has given the nation a continuous demonstration of "quarreling, dissension and disunity."

Cites Wallace and Ickes
He referred to the "shrill, abusive tirades" of Secretary Ickes; denunciation of "unspecified Americans as Fascists" by Vice President Wallace; the quarrel between Wallace and Ickes, and the "long series of quarrels" with the War Production Board, the head of which was "shipped off to China by Mr. Roosevelt himself."

"I do not believe in that quarreling, bickering kind of government," said Mr. Dewey. "An administration which cannot unite its own house when in war can never unite the nation for the tremendous peace tasks ahead."

The Republican nominee asserted that the New Deal, for 12 years, has "continuously sought to bring the congress of the United States into popular disrepute."

"There exists today," he said, "a hopeless division amounting to open warfare between the congress and the president. We cannot enter this critical period ahead with a chief executive at war with congress."

Citing his own relations with the New York state legislature, Gov. Dewey declared:

Points Out Disruption
"My opponent has demonstrated that he cannot work with the present Democratic congress. How in the name of the future of our country can he be expected to get along with the Republican congress which will certainly be elected this fall?"

"We need in this country an administration that wants to work with the elected representatives of the people and that knows how to do it. We can get such an administration only by getting a new chief executive."

Obviously meeting Democratic arguments that President Roosevelt should be re-elected because of his personal acquaintance with powerful men from other nations who will sit at the peace table, such as Churchill and Stalin, Gov. Dewey declared:

"The peace we seek must not hang by the slender thread of personal acquaintance of any two or three men. The pages of history are littered with treaties proclaiming permanent peace made privately by rulers of nations and quickly and publicly broken. This cause is too important to be trusted to discredited methods or to be dependent upon the life span and continued friendship of two or three individuals."

"I want to see a peoples' peace come at the end of this war. I want to see a peace which has been worked out in the full light of day before all the world. We all want to see a peace which has been labored over by the trained experts of all the nations who will be involved in it."

while, completed occupation of approximately two-thirds of the island but still faced stiff fighting on the island's coral spine today.

Against strong opposition they moved head steadily on both flanks, advancing 300 yards on the left and sweeping up the fishhook on the right. Stepping across a narrow channel, they occupied an islet on the northeast side of Pelelu.

While work progressed on the captured Pelelu airfield, General Mueller, the 81st Division's commander, also turned a majority of his troops to cleaning up Angaur for use as a Philippines assault springboard.

Y.W.C.A. Conference Is Marked Success

Tuesday Night Dinner And Discussion Program Smoothly Worked Out By Committees

Mixing gaily, serious thinking and worship, the setting-up conference of the Y.W.C.A. took place Tuesday evening, Y building, beginning with a tureen dinner at 6 o'clock.

Guests were seated according to their birth months, and following the dinner, group singing was led by Mrs. James Moorhead and Mrs. James Rugh, breaking up into discussion groups under the leadership of Mrs. Raymond Williams and Mrs. Glenn Throop. The conferees took up five timely subjects, all connected with the Y.W.C.A. purpose of "Sharing Christ's Love With Others."

First On List
First on the list was the problem of extending true friendship to the Y.W.'s own members, of which there are 1579 locally, and second was extending friendship to newcomers.

Interracial friendships, the subject of a national Y.W.C.A. study at the present time, was one of the most interesting of the discussions, with the groups agreeing that personal contact was the surest solution to racial problems.

Unselfishness in economic thinking was recognized as the basic solution to the problem of wider job opportunities and more security, the fourth topic, while Y.W.C.A.'s work with the young people of Swing Lobby was discussed as part of the fifth topic, cooperation with youth.

Worship Service

Red Cross Lists Gift Possibilities

No Canned Meats For Doughboy Or Sourballs For Airman—They Get Enough, Says ARC

Calls have been coming in to the local Red Cross chapter every day from persons who aren't sure just what to include in the Christmas packages they're mailing across the ocean. Says Miss Elizabeth Brown, executive secretary of the chapter, "Even if you have lists of what the men in service need, much of the choosing will have to depend on your knowledge of what the man likes, and where he is, but a list from National ARC headquarters may be of some help, Miss Breslin suggests."

For example: magazines, chewing gum, cheese, malted milk tablets, concentrated soups, sardines, can openers, fountain pens, Boy Scouts knives, soaps, hard brushes, woolen socks, warm gloves or mittens, lounging slippers, trouser hangers unless he's in a foxhole, are all good.

Writing paper stamped with the name of his squadron, "Evangelists" or "Wildcats" is sure to ring a bell, as will photographs, cigarettes, his favorite sort of book. Remember that all perishables must be put in tin containers, after being wrapped in oiled paper.

But if you want to give the G. I. a holiday treat, don't send him canned meats or gum drops. National headquarters pleads. And if he's in the air corps he won't appreciate sourballs.

Taking No Bets On End Of War

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(INS)—Lloyd's, the big British insurance organization, is taking no "bets" on when the war will end.

O. D. Duncan, Lloyd's general counsel in the United States, today scotched reports that the company is issuing policies concerning the war's end.

He said that all contingency risk insurance written by Lloyd's since 1937 contains clauses stipulating that the policies do not cover loss or damage caused "directly or indirectly by any happening through or in consequence of war."

AROUND CITY HALL

Council has authorized the city legal department to draft a bill making it compulsory that owners of lots where there are obnoxious weeds, cut them down. The bill will be enacted into law so that it will be effective next year. Director of public health D. O. Davies sponsored the move.

There is a penalty of three percent on unpaid 1944 city taxes and effective October 1, there will be a penalty of five percent on unpaid 1944 school taxes according to Treasurer B. N. Hanlon. He anticipates that many taxpayers will make substantial payments yet this month.

A "cubby hole" is being made in the office of the chief of police to provide room for records. Cruiser police today were serving warrants on motorists who received but failed to heed summons for traffic violations. When a warrant is served the defendant usually pays $2.50 for a $100 violation.

North Mercer street, north of Sheridan avenue, has been improved for winter travel. Despite absence of drills OCD attaches at city hall are keeping the organization intact.

Some little boys some times tell big fibs. This was learned when a youngster recently claimed he was abducted here. Inquiry showed the boy had troubles at home and "manufactured" the story. However, daily the teletype asks police to locate boys in their late teens who have wanderlust.

Reports from the streets department today were that the state was making fast progress in putting through state jobs, such as resurfacing of a section of Long Avenue and also a section of East Washington street. Terrace Avenue and County Line Street resurfacing jobs, not yet started, are city projects.

Mayor John H. Haven and Chairman Cecil F. Suber of the Mayor's Recreation committee, today were investigating several structures which may be adapted for Recreation center purposes. So far they have not decided upon any structure to house the winter activities.

The city has good health according to Dr. W. A. Womer, city health superintendent. It will not be long now until the city hall janitors heave coal into municipal building boilers to keep warm the tootsies of city hall workers.

Have a Coca-Cola = Soldier, refresh yourself

...or a way to relax in camp

From southern camps with their moss-hung cypresses to camps near the north woods, there's one place soldiers can relax—the Post Exchange. There they settle down to "shoot the breeze" together. Have a "Coke", they say. Coca-Cola is a refreshing reminder of what they left behind. On "Company Street" in camp as on Main Street at home, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes. In your own refrigerator, ice-cold bottles of Coca-Cola are a symbol of a friendly way of living.

Bessemer Plans For Celebration

Burgess Issues Proclamation For Observance Of Victory Day Over Germany

Bessemer is preparing to celebrate the victory over Germany, but the celebration will be within the bounds of order and propriety, under the rules of a proclamation issued today by Burgess Carl Montgomery. The text of the proclamation follows:

In anticipation of a sudden ending of the war in Europe and the celebration that is bound to follow in this community and throughout the United States and Allied countries, preparations are being made for appropriate demonstrations that will not be harmful to persons or property.

Upon proper verification of the surrender of Germany by your town officials, the fire alarm siren will be sounded and all church bells should peal forth the joyful news.

I would suggest that all merchants close their doors as soon as possible for the rest of the day after receiving official word. I am asking all beer-selling establishments to refrain from selling any beer or liquor for a period of 12 hours. All state liquor stores have already indicated they will close their doors immediately when word is received.

Any demonstration or any celebration not harmful to the persons or property of individuals will in no wise be interfered with.

I strongly urge that immediately upon receipt of official word, all churches open their doors and that citizens attend these places of worship and each in his own way thank God for the cessation of hostilities in the European theater and pray for strength to finish the task in the Pacific.

We must not momentarily forget, in our great joy, that this is but one phase of the war and that many thousands of our boys are actively engaged in the Pacific theater of war and that their loved ones here at home still hope and pray for their eventual safe return.

Let us then confine our rejoicing within due limits, ever mindful that a strong enemy still threatens.

Read this carefully and abide by its requests as nearly as each of you can. Let us hope that the great day of rejoicing is not far away.

CARL MONTGOMERY, Burgess.

Sees Early End To War With Germany

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—(INS)—Louis Johnson of Clarksburg, W. Va., former assistant secretary of war and past national American Legion commander, joined today with those who believe there will be an early end to the war in Europe.

Speaking before the Legion's auxiliary in its Chicago convention, he predicted that "cessation of the war with Germany will come within 30 days—and it won't take three, or even two, years to beat the Japs."

School Board Seeks Action On Fund Payment

Files Petition In Court To Get Settlement On Controversy Over Rent Funds

In a petition filed with the Lawrence county court, the New Castle school board asks a declaratory judgment against County Commissioners Earl R. Wilmer, Joseph P. Travers and Karl T. Rohrer, to compel a distribution of the rent money in the hands of the county commissioners, now totalling $36,342.26. The commissioners have 15 days in which to file an answer after which a hearing date will be set by the court.

The money in the rent fund is that money which has been collected as rents from tenants in homes owned by the county commissioners through treasurer's sales. For some time an effort has been made by joint sessions of the solicitors for the commissioners, school board and City of New Castle to arrive at an equitable distribution of the money but all efforts have failed.

The petition sets out that the school board has "made frequent demands" upon the defendants but same has not been certified for distribution for the reason that the several interested taxing authorities have been unable to agree upon a satisfactory basis for making the distribution.

The school directors aver there is "no other established equally effective, expeditious remedy either at law or in equity, or under statutory provision and further declares application for a declaratory judgment is the proper and appropriate remedy in the case submitted."

The board further declares the only equitable way to distribute the money is to take the taxes, liens, municipal claims with legal interest and penalties and costs of each up to end of the redemption period and divide the rent money upon the proportion of claims of each taxing body.

Revamp Disaster Committee Here

Lawrence County Red Cross Chapter's Disaster Preparedness Setup Is Being Revised

Lawrence county chapter, American Red Cross is revamping its disaster preparedness setup here under the chairmanship of Ralph F. Davis, former chapter chairman, in connection with the visit to the chapter of J. E. Wenrick, disaster representative of the eastern area, American National Red Cross.

The entire program of the chapter is being revised and brought up to date to conform with practices of the National Red Cross, gained from experiences in the most recent disasters.

A survey is being made to determine the disasters which are most likely to occur in this section, and committees are being formed to take charge in the event such a disaster should occur.

Lawrence county has not experienced a serious disaster since the flood of 1913, but disasters strike without warning, and the Red Cross disaster division is constantly prepared.

The past year has been one of the worst in the history of the nation for disasters, which have occurred throughout the country on an average of one every three days. The August disaster report reveals 16 occurred in various sections of the country, which included hurricanes, floods, train wrecks, fires, etc.

The Red Cross, in relieving suffering among those affected by disasters, adopts a policy of serving the need of the individual, rather than the loss sustained by him, some people having assets which enable them to recoup from a disaster, while others do not.

No Collection Of Scrap Here On Saturday

Only Paper To Be Collected
—Plans Completed For Gathering Bundles

For some reason the idea has gotten out that the waste paper collection to be held here Saturday, September 23, will be a metal scrap collection also. The idea is erroneous according to pre-collection chairman, Cecil Suber, who said today "the only thing we are collecting Saturday is waste paper. Old newspapers, wrapping paper, magazines, box board and cardboard."

A final meeting of the pre-collection committee was held in the Elks dining room Tuesday with the various chairmen present. Salvage Chairman Ross D. Rosenberger said he thought this collection was unusually well organized and expressed confidence the total paper collected will be heavy.

Mayor Thanks Committee
Mayor John F. Haven, general chairman of the committee, thanked the chairmen and said he believed the recreation fund would be the richer by considerable after the waste paper is sold. Collection Chairman Numa F. Vaid outlined the plans for the collection on Saturday.

The need for paper products in the armed forces grows daily. Only paper will do for containers for war materials and the paper products must come from waste paper due to the shortage of man power in the paper mills.

New Castle and the townships touching on the city and South New Castle Boro can add many tons of paper to the war effort if the householders will get their waste paper out on the curb on Saturday before noon. Police Chief Robert D. Hanna has 52 trucks lined up to haul the paper to the waiting box cars. Jack Grizzle and Louis Aquara have a crew of loaders ready to load the cars. Tom Allen has his Boy Scouts ready to accompany the trucks and Harold Johnson has truck drivers ready.

Only Need Paper
As a matter of fact everything is ready for a bang-up collection of waste paper and this will be a bang-up collection if the householders respond.

Milkweed Floss Is Superior To Kapok

Fox Gives Data On Milkweed Being Collected To Pad Life Belts

Quite a number of calls have been received by Owen Fox, city forester, in regard to milkweed gathering.

Mr. Fox desires to give some information to the public about the milkweed pod, sought by the government for use as packing in life preservers.

Before the war with the Japs, kapok, formerly used in life preservers, was grown and secured from islands in the Pacific. These islands are now or have been dominated by the Japs, and we have been unable to secure kapok, thus our resort to the floss of the milkweed as a substitute.

Mr. Fox states that it is claimed that this floss has proven to be superior to kapok. The floss is many times more buoyant than cork. Some interesting facts about milkweed floss are told by Mr. Fox.

Upon examination of a milkweed pod at this time, there can be found 250 to 300 seeds lined tight in a row, and the seeds have the appearance of scales on a fish's back. Every one of these seeds has three to four sections, and each section will have about 300 floss strands, finer than the thread of a spider's web. Should this seed be taken out of the pod, it can be seen that the floss is held tightly together by a sticky fluid. When the air contacts this seed, the matted hairs soon burst or puff up, showing that each seed will have about 300 strands of very fine floss.

Mr. Fox says should a handful of these strands contact some flame they would puff up like a quantity of gunpowder.

Milkweed pods being gathered now should be placed in meshed or cheesecloth bags, hung in the open air, allowing the air to circulate through, thoroughly drying them, when the pods will open up and the floss arrive at the proper stage for use.

The Mosquito fighter-bomber has attained a speed of 350 miles per hour.

SHORT COURT

Streamlined is the word for criminal court in Lawrence County for past several years. Folks are either too busy to violate the criminal code or something the last term, about the same the last term, and a number of others. There was a time when criminal court lasted two, three or four weeks. One we remember we sat for six weeks in the court room with many night sessions.

ARE YOU RELATED

Judge Braithwaite asks a jury panel several questions before the twelve to try the case are selected. The questions are these: Are you related to the defendant, are you related to either the district attorney or counsel for the defense?

Time was when relatives sometimes got onto juries in which there was a family interest in the result. Now there are no relatives serve if the court can help it.

Grocery Survey Finds Most In Compliance

Completed this week, the September grocery survey shows a large majority of the local retail stores in cooperation with OPA price and posting regulations, the Price Panel Board revealed this morning.

Out of 247 stores surveyed, only 37 violations were found, the board said. Most of these were failures to post prices of cuts of meat displayed. Other frequent ones were violations in the price of tomato and vegetable soups.

New Treatment For Wounded Is Success

Newest Treatment Is Known As Refrigeration Anesthesia, Used On Battlefronts

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 20.—(INS)—A new treatment—known as refrigeration anesthesia—by which the number of amputations necessitated by battle casualties may be greatly reduced is fast gaining recognition among army and navy doctors.

The treatment was explained today by Dr. Lyman W. Crossman to doctors attending the three-day 94th annual session of the medical society of Pennsylvania.

"Perhaps a battle casualty is brought in with a shattered leg or arm," Dr. Crossman, of New York City Hospital, explained. "His general condition otherwise may be poor. He may have internal injuries."

"If refrigeration anesthesia is applied—if the shattered limb is packed and kept in ice at a temperature of about 40 degrees—the limb may be preserved for as long as six weeks, until the patient's condition is good enough to allow further treatment."

Dr. Crossman said there is no damage to normal tissue, shock does not set in and gangrene does not spread.

Reports from all over the world, he said, indicate that amputations have been cut down as much as 74 per cent by this treatment.

Carroll Speaks On Recreation

Former Coach At George Washington Junior High Speaks On Plans Developing Here

Dan A. Carroll, former coach at George Washington Junior High School, spoke on the plan for recreation for the children and adults of New Castle, which is being developed locally, at the meeting of the New Castle Lions Club, in the Castleton, Tuesday noon.

He told of similar projects which are being worked out in a great many surrounding communities, many of which are far ahead of New Castle in this respect. He stated that such a project could not be put over without the support of the citizens of the community, and of the various civic clubs, and urged members of the Lions to support the idea of a good sound recreational program here.

Special guests of the club included William S. Hyde, of Lima, O.; and Carl A. Betsch and Richard I. Davis, of New Castle.

Governor Bricker Assails New Deal

Says It Took A War To Put Men To Work Under New Deal Policies

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 20.—(INS)—Declaring that under the New Deal "It took a war to put men to work," Gov. John W. Bricker, GOP vice presidential nominee, today called for a re-birth of faith in America and "in the traditions which have made us strong."

The Ohio governor told Pittsburgh industrial workers last night that the American system of free enterprise is winning the war and, if given the opportunity, will build a great future for the people of this nation in peace.

The cause of free labor was done a great disservice, he maintained, when the New Deal "sold out to Sidney Hillman and his crowd." This move, said the Republican nominee, had "driven Democrats by the millions into Republican ranks."

Attacks P.A.C. In his first campaign speech in Pennsylvania at Erie, he launched a scathing attack on the activities of the CIO's political action committee, saying:

"I think it ought to be called the political action committee because they are putting labor up for sale and are putting a great political party up for sale."

He told the Pittsburghers that only under a Republican administration would this country be able to take advantage of a post-war world in which the "potential markets are enormous."

"If we use common sense, if we have faith, the stage is set for a great future," the Ohioan declared, adding:

"Must Lend Encouragement "To reap the benefits of this great opportunity, the government must lend encouragement. It must encourage the utilization of all the latent power of the American people. It must restore freedom of opportunity."

"It must break the shackles of bureaucracy and excessive taxation. It must restore the incentives that bring public business confidence."

The white-haired governor then went on to ask what he termed were "pertinent" questions to every American:

"Is the New Deal planning to meet the post-war employment problem by keeping our boys in the army and navy?"

"Is it planning to meet the post-war unemployment problem by employing our workers in government-owned plants at taxpayers expense?"

"Is it planning to meet the post-war employment problem on the basis of a world wide WPA, wherein the American people supply the goods, the money and the men?"

HEALTH QUIZ

Do you have poor digestion? ☐ YES ☐ NO
Do you feel headachy after eating? ☐ YES ☐ NO
Do you get sour or upset easily? ☐ YES ☐ NO
Do you feel tired—listless? ☐ YES ☐ NO

Do you feel headachy and upset due to poorly digested food? To feel cheerful and happy again your food must be digested properly.

Each day, Nature must produce about two pints of a vital digestive juice to help digest your food. If Nature fails your food may remain undigested—leaving you headachy and irritable.

Therefore, you must increase the flow of this digestive juice. Carter's Little Liver Pills increase this flow quickly—often in as little as 30 minutes. And you're on the road to feeling better. Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's Little Liver Pills aid digestion after Nature's own order. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills as directed. Get them at any drugstore. Only 10c and 25c.
